President and Mrs. Eisenhower are at their farm near here for at least a week. They arrived at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. They brought three grandchildren with them and later Friday evening Mrs. John Eisenhower and her daughter, Barbara Ann, 8, arrived. Their son, Major John Eisenhower, arrived today to spend the weekend.

Susan Elaine Eisenhower will celebrate her sixth birthday next Tuesday.

James C. Hagerty, press secretary, also accompanied the President.

Another "passenger" in the presidential motorcade Friday afternoon was "Heidi," a German hunting dog of the Weimaraner breed.

Dr. Walter Tkach, one of the President's personal physicians, Sgt. John Mooney, the chief executive's valet, and Rose Wood, Mrs. Eisenhower's personal maid, were also in the party.

Dr. Howard M. Snyder, the President's personal physician, remained in Washington because of the critical illness of his sister. He may join the President over the weekend.

Others With President

President Eisenhower will work and rest while here. He will not have any appointments over the weekend but he will work on official business and his forthcoming State of the Union message to Congress.

YOUTH, 15, GETS LIFE FOR DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A couple sat in the rear row of a courtroom yesterday and heard their 15-year-old son sentenced to life imprisonment for smothering a 2-year-old girl.

John Lawrence Miller said neither hello nor goodbye to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Miller. They left immediately after Superior Judge Beach Vasey found the boy guilty of first-degree murder and pronounced sentence.

The youth had pleaded guilty to slaying Laura Helen Wetzel Nov. 11 on the Palos Verdes Peninsula while overdue from a weekend pass from a reform school.

"Felt Like Killing"

Arrested four days later in Reno, Nev., he told police he smothered the child under blankets "because I felt like killing somebody."

After the judge had fixed the degree of guilt and ordered the sentence served in a state prison for adults, young Miller growled to reporters.

"I ain't gonna spend no time up there. I'll get me a couple of guys."

Threatens Officers

Asked what he meant he said, "I mean with a knife or something. Oh, no, not the D.A. To hell with him. I mean some guards, officers."

After his arrest Miller told police he took the daughter of Air Force Capt. and Mrs. Charles Wetzel into a house near her Rolling Hills Estates home while he looked for money with which to finance his escape.

The day before, he had leaped from his parents' car while they were returning him to the juvenile institution to which he had been sent for auto theft and burglaries.

News Brief

CAIRO (AP)—The African-Asian People's Conference plowed ahead in anti-Western fields today as the spotlight centered on Russia's sweeping economic aid offer.

Subgroups of the conference's main Political Committee plunged into a discussion of such controversial East-West topics as imperialism, disarmament, racial discrimination, Algeria and Palestine.

"Freezer" Meals To Be Demonstrated

Mrs. Helen D. Tunison, Adams County extension home economist, today announced plans for a local leaders' meeting on "Meals from the Freezer" to be held January 10 from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Adams Electric Cooperative office, rear of N. Stratton St.

The demonstration meeting will be conducted by Mrs. LaRue Hefner, Pennsylvania State University specialist, who will show use of freezers to provide "quick meals for busy days." Each homemaker club in the county may send two leaders to the demonstration, Mrs. Tunison said.

200 PERSONS AT MASONS' DINNER FRIDAY EVENING

"Man is at his best when he is the servant of his fellow man," former Pennsylvania Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livingston Jr. told nearly 200 members and guests of Good Samaritan Lodge, No. 336, Free and Accepted Masons, at their annual St. John's Day banquet in the American Legion dining room Friday evening.

"In the lesson of Good Samaritan from whom this lodge gets its name and in the lesson that comes at this time of year, there is a great deal of Free Masonry," Livingston said.

Declaring that Christmas has "lost much of its true meaning," Livingston told his audience they could "understand more of the true spirit of Christmas if you could go back and look at the world nearly 2,000 years ago."

"God grant that on this the anniversary of the birth of His Son we shall be worth the heritage of His Son."

Masonic Toasts

Earlier in the program, the Masons toasted the "right worshipful grand lodge of the most ancient and honorable fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania and Masonic jurisdiction thereunto belonging; to the memory of our deceased brother, George Washington; to Free Masonry round the globe; and to the memory of our deceased masters and to the honor of our living past masters."

District Deputy Grand Master Paul G. Pensinger, past master of Good Samaritan Lodge, presented retiring Worshipful Master William Musser with a past master's pin, jewel and apron as a gift from the lodge.

Guests who were introduced included: John A. Walker, Green-castle, district deputy grand master of District No. 3, and Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger, grand chaplain of the grand chapter of Pennsylvania.

Other visiting worshipful masters were introduced by toastmaster Musser.

Newly-elected Worshipful Master Ed Stine introduced the following new officers: Senior warden, Charles E. Kuhn; junior warden, George W. Glenn; treasurer, Kenneth W. Johns, P.M.; secretary, Ray J. Kitzmiller; representative in the Grand Lodge, Paul A. LeGore, P.M.; trustees, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, P.M.; Arthur E. Hutchison, P.M.; and Eugene R. Hartman, chaplain, Thomas J. Winebrenner, P.M., who was ill and unable to be present; acting chaplain, D. Walker Woods Jr.; senior deacon, Henry M. Krick; junior deacon, Donald D. Bucher; senior master of ceremonies, Allan R. Gray; junior master of ceremonies, George E. Helwig; Tyler, John L. Bower, and pursuivant, Radford H. Lippy.

The invocation was given by Rev. Ivan Naugle, and the benediction by Rev. Robert K. Shaul. Musical selections were presented by a Chambersburg quartet.

The committee which arranged the dinner and program included: Musser, chairman; Pensinger, Stine, Kuhn, Kitzmiller, Ralph Taylor, Glenn, Krick, Bucher, Gray, Harry W. Blake, William R. Fissel, Helwig and Bernard Murray.

His awards include the Army Commendation medal and several campaign medals and service stars.

Pumping Station Operator Is Burned

HANCOCK, Md. (AP)—A gasoline pumping station operator was fatally burned when the pumping station exploded and blew him 50 feet into a stream today.

Daniel Smith, 51, of Hancock father of five children, was alone on duty when the blast occurred at a small station 4½ miles north of Hancock in Pennsylvania. He died about 6½ hours after the blast at Berkeley Springs, W. Va. Hospital.

The station is operated by the Southern Pipeline Co. of Lancaster, Pa.

The pumping station, a 20 by 20 foot tin structure housing a 260 horsepower motor, was ripped open and burned. A gasoline storage tank nearby did not explode.

The cause of the explosion was not determined immediately.

Harrisburg Blaze Damages 5 Homes

HARRISBURG (AP)—A general alarm fire swept five residences in this city's Hill Section early today, driving a score of persons to the street.

Acting Fire Chief William C. McBride said the blaze was reported at 2:41 a.m. Shortly after 3:30 a.m. all 16 city fire companies and five from the suburbs had been called out.

Police reported that 19 adults and two children evacuated the buildings, two of which are apartment houses.

McBride said the fire started in a defective chimney in a three-story apartment house and that three other buildings housed physicians' offices.

No injuries were reported.

LICENSED TO WED

Francis X. McGuire, Baltimore, and Joan Agnes Walter, Emmitsburg, have secured a marriage license in Frederick.

Christmas Spirit Moves Bank Official To Admit $104,000, 20-Year Bank Embezzlement

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP)—A 61-year-old bank official, moved by the spirit of Christmas, has admitted a $104,000 bank embezzlement over a 20-year period.

Albert J. Schwenker, assistant treasurer and assistant secretary of the People's Trust Co. of Bergen County, wept as he pleaded guilty to the embezzlement yesterday.

His minister, the Rev. Dr. Harold E. Green of the Cherry Hill Reformed Church of River Edge was with him as Schwenker appeared before U.S. Commissioner Theodore Kiscaras in Rutherford. Took $5,000 A Year

Kiscaras said Schwenker admitted embezzling about $5,000 a year while cashier of the First National Bank of Oradell. The People's Trust Co. bought the Oradell bank in May.

The commissioner, before releasing Schwenker on $5,000 bail, asked how he spent the money.

"On various things," said Schwenker, married and father of two.

Denies Gambling

"On women?" Kiscaras asked. "Could be," replied the slight defendant, who has suffered two heart attacks recently. He denied emphatically that he ever gambled.

Dr. Green told a reporter that Schwenker telephoned him Thursday and asked for a meeting.

They talked in Schwenker's car, Dr. Green said, and the aftermath was that Schwenker went to Walter J. Mundi, vice president of the People's Trust Co.

Arrested By FBI

Mundi stated a statement saying Schwenker had informed the bank of defalcations amounting to $104,000.

The FBI, which arrested Schwen-ker, said he had taken the money by withdrawing dormant

Dr. Green said Schwenker told him his conscience had been bothering him for a long time and the "spirit of the Christmas season made him want to make a clean breast of everything."

A Camp Hill dentist has started a suit for $60,000 damages in U. S. District Court at Harrisburg against a Daytona Beach, Fla., salesman as a result of an auto accident

Dr. John F. Shovlin, Camp Hill, and his wife, Jeanne, have filed the charge against Albert P. Touten, Daytona Beach, Fla., with Jean Evans, deputy clerk of the district court at Harrisburg. According to the complaint filed by Attorneys Solomon Hurwitz and Irwin Benjamin, of Harrisburg, for Dr. and Mrs. Shovlin, a car driven by Touten crossed a centerline on the Emmitsburg Rd., eight miles south of here, and collided with a car driven by Dr. Shovlin in which his wife was a passenger.

Mrs. Stella Dykeman, of Rome, N. Y., sister of Touten, was fatally injured.

Enroute To Florida

The dentist suffered a fractured nose and arm, leg and chest injuries, the complaint states, while his wife suffered fractured ribs, brain concussion and facial injuries.

According to news stories at the time of the crash, the accident occurred at 12:40 o'clock on Monday afternoon, March 12, 1956. State police at that time said Touten, headed north, passed another northbound vehicle on the Emmitsburg Rd. and his car skidded on the wet highway as he brought it back into the northbound lane. Police then said the Touten car went off the highway as it skidded, returned to the highway and crashed into the auto being driven south by Dr. Shovlin.

Touten was found to have a fractured pelvis and contusions and was admitted as a patient. His sister, Mrs. Stella Dykeman, 38, was enroute with her brother from Daytona Beach, Fla., to Rome, N. Y., to pick up other members of the family, planning to drive them to Florida to join her husband, Edward George Dykeman, at Daytona Beach.

Mrs. Dykeman did not seem seriously injured when brought to the hospital and talked about flying on to New York to complete the journey. She later decided to remain at the hospital because of her injured brother, and because of what she thought were minor injuries to herself. About 3½ hours after the accident she began to have a breathing difficulty, and in 30 minutes death occurred. She was found to have suffered a fracture at the base of the skull.

GUEST TEACHER

Elmer Yoder, Biglerville, will be the teacher for the Men's Bible Class at St. James Lutheran Church Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

11 Miners Found Dead After Gas Explosion 500 Ft. Below Surface; 14 Escape Uninjured

AMONATE, Va. (AP)—Eleven miners were found dead early today as the result of a gas explosion late yesterday which trapped 25 miners 500 feet underground in a colliery straddling the Virginia-West Virginia line. The other 14 had been brought out of the mine uninjured several hours earlier.

An official of the Pocahontas Fuel Co., operators of the mine near this southwest Virginia town, 20 miles west of Bluefield, Va., W. Va., said the bodies of the 11 men are still below ground but will be brought to the surface shortly.

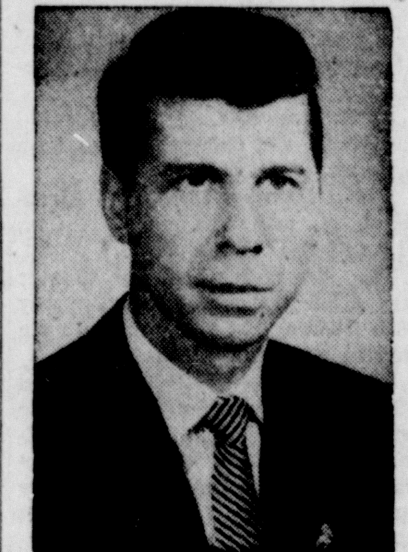

The survivors were brought out shortly after midnight. Company officials said all the men originally trapped by the blast are believed to have been accounted for.

Families Notified

Bodies of the victims will be removed from the sprawling mine through a shaft located in West Virginia, nearly three miles from

DRIVER SWERVES TO AVOID DOG; TWO IN HOSPITAL

An attempt to avoid a dog on the highway put two Gettysburg youths in the Warner Hospital Friday afternoon.

One of the young men, William L. Little, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Little, 63 W. High St., is a patient at the Warner Hospital with a head concussion, two minor fractures of the back, contusions of the scalp, bruise burns, of the extremities, and cuts and abrasions of the back. His condition this morning was listed by the hospital as "serious."

William Luckenbaugh, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Luckenbaugh, 244 S. Washington St., was a patient at the hospital with cuts and abrasions of the scalp, fracture and dislocation of the left upper arm, abrasions of the knees and feet, cerebral concussion and laceration of the right forehead.

Were Avoiding Dog

State police said the two local youths were driving west on the Gettysburg-Hanover Rd. at the eastern edge of Bonneauville Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Little at the wheel.

A dog wandered onto the highway in the path of the auto, the officers said, and Little braked and swerved his auto to the left to avoid the animal.

He lost control of the car, and it ran off the highway, off the north berm of the road, and smashed into a United Telephone Co. pole.

Police estimated damage to the Pontiac car at $225, and said it was demolished.

Gettysburg firemen were summoned with the Adams County ambulance to remove the two young men to the hospital here.

TWO RED LION YOUTHS MUST PAY $50 FINES ON GUN CHARGES

Two Red Lion "students of history" were given 30 days Friday afternoon by U.S. Commissioner J. Francis Yake Jr. in which to pay fines of $50 each for having guns on the Gettysburg battlefield.

They told Commissioner Yake they had come to the battlefield to see points of interest and intended to use the telescopes on their rifles to inspect sections of the "field from battlefield towers."

Robert L. Beaverson, 18, who said he is president of the Senior class at Red Lion High School, and Harry Edie, 18, also a student at Red Lion High, were fined $50 each for having rifles on the battlefield December 14, and when Edie said he did not have money for the fine at hand, Commissioner Yake placed both on probation for 30 days in custody of the U.S. probation officer. One of the conditions of the probation is that the fines be paid within the one-month period.

Beaverson, who was accompanied by his father, Merlin Beaverson, Red Lion, to the hearing, offered a check for $50 to the commissioner following the hearing.

Deputy Warden Testifies

Six other Red Lion area youths with Beaverson and Edie at the time they were apprehended on the battlefield will probably face juvenile authorities. All are under 18. Park Guard Emless Nett, in response to questioning by Beaverson and Edie, said he could not tell now what disposition will be made of the juveniles' cases pending a decision of the U.S. attorney general's office.

Edie and Beaverson had been charged by Nett with hunting on the battlefield and with having guns on the battlefield.

Deputy Warden Chester S. Shriver, Gettysburg R. 4, testified that he had been searching for a buck that had been wounded by a hunter, off the battlefield, and had followed the trail of the wounded animal onto the battlefield.

Had Hunting Clothes, Licenses

As he was searching for that deer, he found two juveniles at two cars parked in the Big Round Top parking area.

The youths were wearing hunting clothing and had licenses affixed to their backs, he said, and one of the youths gave him a roster of the eight young men in the party. About

COLLEGE GRAD TO BECOME N. Y. BANK PRESIDENT

W. Emerson Gentzler, executive vice president and a member of the board of Empire City Savings Bank, New York City, will succeed the bank president, Charles Diehl, when he retires Tuesday.

Gentzler, 54, a Gettysburg College alumnus and member of the college board of trustees, became executive vice president of the bank on November 1, 1956. Prior to that appointment, he was administrator and instructor at Columbia University for 30 years.

Diehl, a veteran of 50 years' service in New York banking circles, has been president of the bank since 1945.

Once Taught Math

Son of Milton J. Gentzler, York R. 6, and the late Elizabeth Thomas Schriver Gentzler, Gentzler attended York County Academy and was graduated from Gettysburg College in 1925. He received a master's degree from Columbia in 1927 and became a mathematics instructor at the university.

In 1930 he was named director of the university's placement office and later served as bursar and business manager before becoming provost and director for student interests.

Gentzler is a trustee of Gettysburg College and a trustee and former president of Knickerbocker Hospital, New York. He is a former director of the board of pensions of the United Lutheran Church in America, a director of Associated Hospital Services of New York and president of Manhattanville Community Centers, Inc.

He will assume his presidential duties formally on Thursday.

COUPLE SEES YOUNG MOTHER SHOT FATALLY

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A young mother was shot to death in front of her home last night while two people watched in helplessness.

Mrs. Margie Bell Kirby, about 30, was clutching the hand of her son David, 4, when she was gunned down.

Her assailant grabbed the little boy's hand and fled, but the boy turned up two hours later at the home of an uncle.

Police were seeking the woman's husband Carroll Lane Kirby, about 39.

Bob Jeffries and his wife Gale, both 19, witnessed the shooting. Jeffries, a newspaper carrier-salesman, was collecting at the time.

"Gale had gone to the Kirby house and I was next door," he said. "I thought they were playing. Then there was this noise like a firecracker and she fell."

His wife said she talked with the woman and her son seconds before the shooting.

"She paid me for the paper and then I asked the boy what Santa brought him. Just then, I heard he woman say, 'Oh my God, he's got a gun and he's going to kill me.'"

Mrs. Jeffries said the woman grabbed the boy's hand and ran into the yard. She said a man followed them from the home and fired one shot.

"Then he turned and looked right at me," Mrs. Jeffries said. "I thought he was going to shoot at me so I ran and hid behind a car in the driveway." They said the man put the boy in a car and drove off.

MAKE UP LIST OF CONFEREES ON EDUCATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Legislature's research arm today was working on its own list of educators and interested citizens to confer with it on a study of post-high school education problems.

Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster), chairman of the Joint State Government Commission, announced last night that the commission will call on a group made up of employers, educational administrators, classroom teachers, bankers, technicians and scientists to advise it on its study.

Gov. Leader has invited a 100-member group to meetings next month to review the state's educational system.

The commission's executive committee already has reviewed the more important phases of the subject, Royer said and mentioned two plans which the commission has given more than passing attention.

One he identified as the Allegheny County plan, which contemplates two years of technical full high school course.

The other is the Massachusetts plan in which that state's banks make loans to students who have completed their freshman year at an approved state college and need financial support to continue. The loans are guaranteed 80 per cent by a special corporation.

WHERE DOG GOES SO DOES ORSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Where Orson Welles goes, his dog goes.

Movie man Welles learned half an hour before sailing time yesterday that the French liner Liberté couldn't permit him to carry with him his toy dog named Columba.

So Welles switched his entire party—including Columba—to the American Export liner Exorchora.

He was headed for Rome for a vacation, but had scheduled his trip through France. After the change, he sailed directly for Italy.

The French recently restricted the entry of dogs because of an outbreak of rabies in the Mediterranean area.

BOMB EXPLODES IN CROWDED TEX. THEATER; 4 HURT

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A home-made bomb exploded with a blinding flash last night in a crowded theater, sending scores of panicked teen-agers fleeing into the lobby of the smoke-filled building.

Four youths suffered minor burns and cuts.

Police said an unknown person tossed the bomb into the theater near the screen. The blast, described as a "blinding orange and red flash," hurled one youth out of his seat and blew the seat cushion 15 feet.

Jerry Brewster, 12, was treated for burns and lacerations on both legs and released.

David Palmer, 15, James Birchfield, 12, and Charles Ray Cox, 11, suffered minor cuts.

The lower floor of the theater was filled to near capacity, mostly with teen-agers and children watching a Walt Disney movie.

Detective Lawrence Glover said officers think the bomb was made from firecrackers. He said officers found pellets resembling gunshot where the bomb apparently landed. He said whoever threw it apparently escaped unseen.

The theater filled with smoke, but there was no fire, and except for the seat, little damage.

DALLAS STARTS DESEGREGATING PUBLIC SCHOOLS

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas school officials, happy over a federal appeals court ruling which lifted an order for them to integrate schools next month, today turned back to mapping deliberate plans for desegregation.

The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans yesterday ruled that school authorities here "should be accorded a reasonable further opportunity" to integrate schools.

Last September Federal Judge William H. Atwell ordered integration of local public schools at mid-term. Twice before he issued decisions saying Dallas need not integrate and said his third ruling was done so reluctantly.

Board President Pleased
Dr. Edwin L. Rippey, school board president, said that "naturally we are pleased with a decision of the Circuit Court which again allows us the opportunity of dictating our own timing and suggesting our own methods."

He said surveys made in connection with eventual integration here were not merely delaying actions. "We've learned a great deal—not only from studies but from observation of other communities that have integrated."

Rippey declined to make known the board's specific plans on integration.

REMAINS CRITICAL
Mrs. Ruth Spangler, Hagerstown, remains in a critical condition at the Hanover Hospital. She was injured in an auto accident Thursday evening in which Lloyd E. Eller, Littlestown R. 1, was fatally injured.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Leonard H. Kinnard, 83, retired chairman of the board of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania, died today at his suburban Wynnewood home.

Kinnard, who retired from his Bell post in this state in 1934, also served until the time of his retirement as board chairman of the Diamond State Telephone Co. of Delaware.

Kinnard, started his telephone career in 1883 as a temporary clerk at Harrisburg, where he was born Sept. 5, 1869.

He came to Philadelphia as general commercial manager after the Pennsylvania Telephone Co. merged with the Bell Telephone Co. of Philadelphia to form the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Monday at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Harrisburg with burial private.

In New York City, was a guest on the Garry Moore TV show Friday morning.

Boy, 7, Drives Truck Mile And Hits Police Station

WASHINGTON, England (AP)—Motorists blinked as a small truck weaved through the traffic here, apparently without a driver.

They watched as the truck scraped against the wall of the police station and shuddered to a halt. Then the driver got out.

The driver was Jim Brennan, just 7 years old and four feet high. He had driven the truck, which belonged to his uncle, 1½ miles along busy streets, around five sharp corners, across a railroad crossing and up and down three steep hills.

Nab Policeman On Charges Of Burglary

FREEDOM, Pa. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Richard P. Steward of Beaver County today disclosed the arrest of Asst. Police Chief Albert Bilotto, 35, of Freedom, on burglary charges.

Steward said Bilotto, a member of the force for six years, made an oral statement admitting he took $342 from a safe at an Italy store and TV sets and other appliances from a Jurich store.

Bilotto, who was suspended from the force Dec. 9 by Burgess Thomas W. Harrison on charges of neglect of duty, insubordination and conduct unbecoming an officer, was taken into custody by county detectives yesterday afternoon.

Bilotto was held for court under $5,000 bond. Part of the loot was recovered, Steward said.

Steward said the $312 from the Italy store was taken Oct. 21. The thefts at the Jurich store occurred between June and Dec. 20, he said.

ANNUAL LEGION
SHOW PLANS ARE BEING STARTED

Plans for arranging the annual entertainment by Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, were discussed briefly at the semi-monthly meeting of the Legionnaires held on Thursday evening at the post home, E. King St. Commander Lawrence T. Crouse, who presided, appointed the following committee to decide what type of entertainment will be planned for the annual production: Donald L. Belford, Claude Snyder, Herbert J. Sell, Beaven F. Hanlon, Stewart N. Long, Earl L. Stites and Elmer W. M. Dutera. The group will decide if the post will continue a minstrel show or develop some type of variety show, and report at the next meeting.

Preliminary plans were discussed for a steak dinner to be held during the month of January with the date to be set at the next meeting, on Thursday, January 9, at 9 p.m. The session has been postponed one hour due to the annual preaching mission service in the community.

Class Entertained

Members of the Starr Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Drive, on Thursday evening. The monthly meeting of the class was held at the home of Mr. Ritter, who is teacher of the class. The evening's program opened with the group singing of carols, accompanied by Miss Darlene DeHoff; Scripture reading, Mrs. Paul H. Scheivert; prayer, Mr. Ritter. It was announced that any shut-ins who wish to have the Sunday School services held at their homes on the third Sunday of the month should contact Mrs. Maurice C. Warheim or Mrs. Minnie Miller in advance. Mrs. Scheivert presented a reading and other members of the class present gave readings concerning the origin of Christmas customs. There was an exchange of names, revealing sunshine sisters, and names for 1958 sisters were chosen. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Scheivert, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Irvin R. Kindig.

The next regular meeting of the Starr Bible Class will be held on Thursday, January 30, at the church, with the following committee in charge: Mrs. Maurice Warheim, Mrs. Ralph Conover and Mrs. Alveta Peaser.

Christmas Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon, Prince St., were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Whisler, Hanover; Mr. Lemmon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lemmon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. DeGroot, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. DeGroot and children, Kim and Kris.

Society Events

Forty-seven persons were present at the Christmas party and covered dish supper for members of the Ladies Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran Church and their families, held on Thursday evening in the church social hall. The Christmas program followed the meal, in charge of Mrs. Fred W. King and Mrs. Clair A. Beamer, and was as follows: Group singing of carols, accompanied by Mrs. Roland Strevig; baton twirling act, John Beamer and Janice King; vocal duets, "Star of the East" and "Christmas Island," Susan Strevig and Gary Strevig, with Mrs. Ronald Strevig as pianist; Christmas play-lette by Mrs. James Dutera and Mrs. Noah Strevig; Lord's Prayer in unison.

Election of officers took place during the business session, and the results follow: President, Mrs. Lloyd Spangler, vice president, Mrs. Albert J. Starnier; secretary, Mrs. Edwin L. Hargett; treasurer, Mrs. Fred W. King; flower committee, Mrs. Dallas W. Shriver and Mrs. Noah Strevig. The session was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Wil-

Prize Winning Littlestown Home

The home of Claire Bowers, 602 Prince St., was judged first prize winner in the annual Christmas decorations contest at Littlestown, sponsored by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce. When the homes were judged Thursday evening, the Bowers' residence was chosen as the best in the "entire house" division. First place carried with it a $20 prize.

TWO RED LION

that time Edie and Beaverson came off Big Round Top. Beaverson had a rifle which Shriver said appeared "closed" at the time, but which Beaverson later "opened" by removing the bolt.

Soon three other youths came out of the woods, farther down on Big Round Top, and then the eighth member of the party "walked down the avenue." Two of the last four youths also carried rifles. Shriver said the youths told him they had been hunting on Green Ridge in western Adams County, had found no deer, and had started home and decided to stop at the battlefield.

Used 'Scopes On Rifles

Edie and Beaverson told Commissioner Yake they had been hunting in Green Ridge but held that the roster given Shriver did not represent a hunting "camp," because they had not been hunting together on Green Ridge, and did not represent a hunting group on the battlefield, but was in their possession because they had been hunting previously and planned to hunt again.

Both claimed they had no intention of hunting. Edie told Yake: "We had heard in school about the battlefield and we went up the towers, four or five of them, to see the things we had heard about. We were going up the tower at Round Top and Beaverson took his rifle along so we could look through the 'scopes on it, since we didn't have any glasses (binoculars) along."

Both said they tired before reaching the tower and did not climb that tower.

"Leans Over Backwards"

Edie and Beaverson both said they planned to use the gun only to look at the scenery with the telescope sight. Beaverson remarked "there are round things on the tower that tell you what to look at." (Each tower has a circular metal disc stating the direction and distance to points of interest.)

They held they did not know what the other boys in the group were doing on Big Round Top, or why they took guns with them, but said all had started originally to climb the tower.

Yake held that "while it doesn't seem impossible that boys would take guns on the hill without some idea of hunting, still hunting is in the mind and so we'll lean over backwards and find you innocent of hunting on the field. However the law specifically states you cannot take guns on the field without permission of the superintendent, and you had not such permission. I find you guilty of that and lean over backward and make the fine only $50 each. The courts have held what firearms are and on the battlefield the guards are not required to check whether bolts are open or not. The rules state that the firearm must be encased or sealed, and being locked in a trunk of a car (where Edie said his gun was) is not enough." Beaverson and his father held at the hearing that Beaverson's gun could not be fired because the bolt could not be closed.

Dilworth Urging
More U. S. Funds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia has urged President Eisenhower to add another 150 million dollars to the 50 million released Christmas Eve in urban renewal funds.

Unfreezing of the first 50 million was a wonderful Christmas present for American cities, the mayor telegraphed the President yesterday, but he added past experience indicated the amount would soon be exhausted.

Dilworth expressed hope the Administration would release another 50 million authorized by Congress in 1957, and 100 million authorized in 1958. He said a recent survey of the American Municipal Association had indicated a great need for the renewal funds.

11 Miners

ing as rescuers were forced to inch their way along slate-clogged passages filled with smoke and deadly gases. They carried oxygen tanks strapped to their backs.

Officials said the mine was known as a "gaseous" mine. It was indicated that equipment used to disburse the gas, present in varied quantities in all coal mines, had failed to function properly and the accumulation had been touched off by a spark of unknown origin.

Families Kept Vigil

Fullerton said the families of the trapped miners had kept a vigil at a station two miles from the disaster scene through most of the night but had been urged to return to their homes early this morning to await developments.

Although only eight men had been listed as working in the continuing loading area, company officials later discovered 11 men were there.

Ironically, some of the 11 might have been due for a layoff today because of a 70 per cent cut in personnel.

Officials of the Pocahontas Fuel Co., operators of the southwest Virginia mine, said 534 of the 775 men employed at the operation—Mine No. 31—were due to be cut off because of a decrease in coal orders.

Survivors Okay

The 14 survivors were pronounced in good physical condition and were sent home. They came out of the mine about 12:05 a.m., some 5½ hours after the blast.

Survivors said the concussion was worse than the blast itself. "It knocked the sandwich out of my hand and knocked me over," said Mitchell Harris of Cedar Bluff.

Harris said there "was no doubt but what it was a gas explosion." State and federal mine officials rated the mine as gaseous.

The blast was described by Harris as "just like a hot blast of wind. There was no fire — just smoke and dust and a bad odor."

The survivors were brought out from a joy loading (a type of mechanical operation) section of the mine some 500 feet underground and about a mile and a half from the mine shaft entry on the Virginia side of the operation that straddles the Virginia-West Virginia border.

Their discovery some five hours after the first blast was the first contact with the men during the time they were trapped.

The men built two canvas barricades for protection but spent most of the five-hour period sitting, thinking, praying.

"If some of those men didn't pray," said Harris, "they should have."

About 250 men were working in the mine at the time of the blast.

Arrest Pair After Marijuana Is Found

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Falls Twp. police arrested two men in an automobile on Route 1 yesterday on charges of transporting narcotics.

Earl Phillips, 20, Corona, N.Y., and Oscar Brown, 21, Philadelphia, were held in $1,000 bail each for the Bucks County Grand Jury.

Arresting officers said they became suspicious at the slow pace in which the automobile, driven by Brown, was moving. They said they searched the pair and found a half ounce of marijuana in a secret pocket inside the sleeve of Phillips' topcoat.

HARRISBURG (AP) — An autopsy has revealed that a 75-year-old Hanover woman who died here yesterday was a victim of injuries suffered in an automobile accident just prior to her death. Dr. Thomas J. Fritchey, Dauphin County coroner, announced yesterday.

JUDGE DENIES THAT HE EVER
TOOK BRIBE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Criminal Court Judge Raulston Schoolfield denied last night that he had ever taken a bribe. He said that allegations that he had done so stemmed from what he called a contemptible plot and conspiracy.

In an hour-long television speech, delivered first here and then in Nashville, Schoolfield answered charges made against him last week before the Senate Rackets Committee by saying:

1. That he emphatically denied any implications that he had taken a bribe to quash conspiracy charges against 13 Teamsters Union members.

2. That Asst. Dist. Atty. Gen. Harold Brown had testified correctly that he, Brown, gave the judge $1,000 for his 1954 gubernatorial campaign fund from a bondsman named Sam Jones, but indicated he had no knowledge that it may have been contributed by a defendant who was later paroled in his court.

3. That he acknowledged his failure to report expenditures in his segregationist campaign for governor.

4. That investigators for the committee, which he called a federal engine of tyranny, had aimed not at labor-management cases but only at him because of his stand against centralized government and for states rights.

For the Rackets Committee, Sen. Curtis (R-Tenn.) said, "The judge is overrating himself. . . . We have no interest in him personally nor jurisdiction over him. His characterization of the committee is entirely false. There is no plot to destroy him."

ALUMNI TEAMS
TOP FAIRFIELD

The Fairfield Alumni boys and girls won a double victory over the Fairfield High School dribblers in the annual games Friday evening, the boys triumphing 56-46 and the girls 45-28.

Johnny McAndrews' boys led in the first period, 15-14, and made it a close affair until the Alumni surged in the last period to wrap up the decision. Johnny Sprankle rimmed 15 points for the varsity while Charley Deardorff bagged a dozen for the Alumni.

The Alumnae girls got a 13-10 lead in the first quarter and steadily increased their lead in succeeding periods. Dottie Myers looped 23 points to top the grads while Kuykendall landed 11 for the school girls.

St. Joseph's of Emmitsburg will play at Emmitsburg next Friday.

AMERKS BEAT
BISONS 8-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the greatest concentrated periods of scoring in the American Hockey League this season boosted the Rochester Americans into a tie for fourth place with the Buffalo Bisons.

The Amerks turned back the Bisons 8-4 in one of the league's two games last night with five of the winner's goals coming in a span of less than 14 minutes in the third period.

Buffalo also scored three goals during the time that the Americans were making a runaway of the game.

Paced By Smrke

Sian Smrke paced Rochester with three goals and assist. Gary Collins picked up two goals and three assists while Mike Nykoluk, center for the line, assisted on four goals.

Cleveland beat Providence 2-1 in the other game and moved within 11 points of the pace-setting Hershey Bears.

The Barons scored twice in the closing minutes of the opening period on goals by Gordon Vejprava and Bill Watson and made them stand up as they chalked up their 11th victory on home ice this season.

Gets Prison Term
For Three Forgeries

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 32-year-old Pottstown man received a

Judge Emmitsburg
Homes On Monday

President Ralph D. Lindsey of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce has announced the annual judging of Christmas lighting will take place Monday night between 7 and 10 o'clock.

All residents interested in the competition are asked to have their displays lighted during these three hours as the judges will be touring the town at that time. The event is sponsored annually by the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce and interest in the contest has been mounting each year.

Three out-of-town judges have been obtained and will render their decisions on three prizes in the commercial class and three awards in the residential category. Prize money totals $50, being divided between the two types of classifications. The contest rules make it mandatory that all exhibits be lighted otherwise they will not be judged thereby eliminating the party from any award.

2-to-4 year prison term yesterday after pleading guilty to three counts of forgery and carrying a concealed weapon.

Gerald Freese admitted forging three checks in his father-in-law's name totalling $7,500 and cashing two of them against his relative's account in a Pottstown bank. The third check, for $4,500, in the name of Arthur Rhoads, of Pottstown R. 2, was refused when the bank teller became suspicious.

Police said Freese was carrying a loaded pistol when arrested Dec. 18.

Today's Talk

THE NEW YEAR

We center a great deal of thought upon the proverbial New Year, but as a matter of fact every day we face challenges, new year, so to live triumphantly each daily morning should mark itself as an important event. The years do not count in themselves, but what we do with them does.

We wish our friends a Happy New Year, and they wish us the same. How much it means always to be happy! Of course we are not, but the balance is in our favor. Our blessings pile up on us. That gives to us the opportunity to spread them around so that others experience the happiness that we enjoy.

So it happens that many of us make new resolutions on the first of January, instead of in June, August or November. We start on New Year's Day with a clean slate, and we resolve to be better and to think better. Growth, mentally and spiritually, is an important decision to make. Thereby we keep getting away from our own selves, discarding the shell of our former years. The New Year is a good time in which to appraise our lives. If we didn't use that day for serious thought we would continue to live an uneventful life.

There is a saying which is to "keep on our toes," meaning to keep alert, watchful, and full of courage. That is why we are given so many years in which to live, so that we may be given the opportunity to smooth out our lives, adding to our usefulness.

The writing of these Talks each day has been one of my joys, regardless of the thought and labor given over them. I have been able to contact thousands of potential friends. And so it is that I have happy New Years, each one an important event. And a Happy New Year to all the unseen friends!

Just Folks

GOOD TO HIS WIFE

He is good to his wife—you need tell me no more.

That is commendation enough: Then his credit is good at the neighborhood store.

And he's game, when the going is rough.

He is good to his wife—when a fellow is that.

You can bet he'll be true to a friend;

Though his clothing is old and his bank roll's not fat.

On him you can safely depend.

He is good to his wife—then no more need be said:

His faults and his vices are slight.

Nothing more you could say greater lustre to shed:

If he's good to his wife, he's all right.

VISIT PARIS AS GUESTS OF BOSS

BOSTON (AP)—About 50 employees and customers of the Beacon Plastics Corp. of Newton flew to Paris "Thursday night for a 15-day vacation in Europe as guests of the boss.

Joseph L. Sholkin, president of the firm, said the trip is a form of a Christmas bonus for loyal employees, including factory workers, office help, salesmen and some of the firm's better customers.

The company will pay expenses of the trip and the stay in Europe for all employees with 10 or more years of service. A worker with six years service will get 60 per cent of the cost. Workers with under five years service pay 50 per cent.

"We think it's good for morale," said William I. Golden, vice president of the firm which employs 180 persons in its Newton plant. Two years ago Sholkin took the employees on a junket to Canada. Last spring the workers were guests of the company at Atlantic City, N.J.

The party this year will visit Rome, London, Ireland and Holland.

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Friday the most important thing at the moment is to patch up differences with friends and consolidate forces against totalitarianism.

Truman, here on a visit, made the observation to reporters accompanying him on his usual morning stroll. He discoursed on a variety of topics.

Let's Look At The Record

By Jim Dan Hill, Ph.D.

A BIG DEBATE FOR '58

White House Succession A Growing Issue: Constitution Puta

Decision On Congress

THE NEW YEAR should early produce a new answer to an old problem. Staff workers are now compiling data for congressional committees of both Houses. Their findings will provide thunder for the first debates of 1958.

The problem: Mr. Eisenhower's health and the line of succession. It took a combination of a major NATO conference and the annual arrival of Santa Claus to crowd the subject from the front pages.

THERE HAS BEEN much loose mauling on this subject; not enough looking at the record. Just what does the Constitution, "the first law of the land," say?

In Article II, Section 5, you may read for yourself:

"In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed or a President shall be elected."

WHEN Gouverneur Morris, then in his brilliant middle thirties and already a leading Philadelphia lawyer and who is considered the stylist of the Constitution's final draft, checked the foregoing, he no doubt told himself it was a long sentence but completely clear.

But custom, tradition, prestige of office, legal interpretations, and precedents all combine to do things to laws and even unto the Constitution.

Read it again. Wherein does it say the Vice President becomes President in "case of removal of the President from office?"

Actually, it pretty clearly suggests the Vice President is to keep on being a V. P. and merely that the "powers and duties" devolve upon him and he "shall act as President" until the disability is removed or such time someone is elected.

Such being the case, by what right did Mr. Truman sign his name as President following the death of F.D.R.? The people had elected him Vice President; no more, no less. He had merely inherited the duties of the office.

MR. TRUMAN acted in good faith and by precedent. In 1841, after a month in office, death removed President William Henry Harrison. It was the grim reaper's first visit to the Executive Office.

Vice President John Tyler, with characteristic lack of modesty normally acquired by those who drink Potomac River water for a few years, moved in and began signing his name as President. His supporters thought it is best for the nation.

His bitter opponents, and he had many more than Mr. Nixon, applied in reverse Shakespeare's rule for roses and decided a bit of skunk cabbage called by another name smelled no worse. They offered no legal barrier.

Thus Mr. Tyler's assumption of the title, pay, perquisites and full prestige of office became the accepted interpretation of that part of Mr. Morris's rather long sentence.

INTERWOVEN through many of the debates on presidential succession will recur all sorts of other interpretations of Gouverneur Morris's long but perfectly clear sentence.

The need of an amendment to the Constitution will be urged. Whether to oppose or support an amendment, one may well hold in abeyance until the plan itself is unveiled.

But the amending process requires so much time that it could not be achieved prior to 1960, by which time a new presidential election will be in progress anyway.

Thus most of those who will call for amending the Constitution will most likely be playing for time—stalling with the ball and watching the clock.

THIS RAISES the question: Does the Congress have full power without amending the Constitution?

Read the quotation again. Notice it says "the Congress may by law provide..." That would seem to settle the question of power. Of course, a law must be acceptable to the White House, or it will be vetoed.

But with the proper majority, the law may be passed over the veto. Thus the big issue is squarely upon the shoulders of Congress.

And, be it said in behalf of Mr. Eisenhower, no President in history has been more candid and cooperative on such a personal matter than he. Check the record on Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

FOLLOW KIDNAP TRAIL IN HUNT FOR 2 GUNMEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police followed a trail of kidnappings today in an effort to track two gunmen wanted for killing two men and critically wounding another.

The trail led to South Carolina, where the third of three persons kidnapped by the fugitives was released unharmed.

Police said the two men shot up a restaurant here early yesterday after an argument over a $20 tab. The proprietor, George P. Kaldes, 33, and guitar player, Kenneth Fisher, 32, were killed. A blind pianist Bernard Mainer, 28, is in critical condition.

Commander Car

The FBI listed the two being sought as Henry Cady Overton, 44, and Wayne Carpenter, about 22. They are charged in warrants with kidnapping, unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder, and auto theft.

Overton has a long record of assault, housebreaking and larceny, the FBI said.

Police said the two gunmen fled the restaurant in Overton's car, which they abandoned minutes later to commandeer an automobile in which a young couple was parked. The fugitives forced the couple—Doris Mattingly, 19, and Army Pfc. Larry Lee Monteith, 21—to accompany them.

Take Second Car

With the younger gunman driving Monteith's car, the fugitives and their captives headed South. The girl was released near Richmond, Va., after daybreak. Monteith was left locked in the trunk of his automobile near Alberta, Va., police said, after the fugitives commandeered another car, driven by Asonia G. Allman of Richmond.

Miss Allman was released unharmed yesterday in Cheraw, S.C.

Insurance Salesman Gets Timely Assist

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—A radiator repairman was working underneath an automobile when he remarked to insurance salesman Bob Turner, "Nothing ever happens around here. I don't need insurance."

He barely got the words out when a spark from his wrench ignited a gasoline fire.

The blaze ran through the shop and touched off a fire in a nearby sewer.

Robert Vermett, the repairman, escaped injury and firemen quickly quelled the blaze.

"Give me your fountain pen," said Vermett to Turner.

BOY, 17, KILLED TWO MEN WHO GAVE HIM LIFTS

BATH, N. Y. (AP)—A mild-mannered 17-year-old youth who uses neither alcohol, tobacco nor coffee told police last night he had slain two men who gave him lifts while hitchhiking.

One victim was the father of 10 children, on his way to a hospital to visit his wife and newborn baby.

Authorities said Fred Sommer Jr. of Cameron Mills, near this south-central New York community, admitted in written statements that he shot Cecil Stratton, 42, Dec. 13, and Leo W. Brown, 38, Thursday night.

Killed For Cars

He said he killed both men for their automobiles. He used the same pistol to put bullets through both of his victims' heads.

The body of Stratton, of Horseheads, was found last night in the town of Catlin, six miles from where that of Brown, a Corning resident, was discovered. Both men were employed at the Corning Glass Works.

Quit School

Sommer, a tall, thin youth with curly blond hair, told police he had worked around livestock markets, and more recently as janitor in a tavern, since leaving school in the seventh grade last year.

He said he wanted the cars for holdups he pulled to get some money to pay a former employer for some allegedly stolen items. He said Stratton tried to fight him off and cried, "There's no sense shooting me. I've got a wife and 10 kids."

Sommer, who was arrested earlier in the day at Horseheads, was charged with first-degree murder.

ASK MERIT PAY FOR TEACHERS AT LOCAL LEVEL

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania school teachers were told Friday that any system of merit pay increases should be applied at the local level.

"We would not want to see a statewide merit increase program initiated in Pennsylvania," declared Dr. B. Anton Hess, principal of the Conestoga High School, Berwyn, Chester County.

He addressed a meeting of secondary school principals at the 105th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn.

Should Stress Democracy

The official PSEA stand and the consensus among teachers at the convention is that any legislation aimed at establishing a statewide merit plan would upset the organization's long range efforts to boost teacher pay scales generally.

Hess' stand against the statewide plan was backed by Dan J. Skala, principal of the Lawrence Park High School, Erie County. Skala, a former president of the PSEA, also addressed the secondary principals meeting.

Both said that if school districts desire it, a merit system should be worked out only at the local level.

Col. I. L. Luthi of the Army War College at nearby Carlisle, told a meeting of district superintendents that schools should make greater efforts to stress the teaching of democracy.

$1,000 Award For Cleveland Doctor

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Dr. Irvine H. Page of the Cleveland Clinic was awarded the Ida B. Gould Memorial Award today for research on cardiovascular problems.

The $1,000 award, provided by the Richard and Hinda Rosenthal Foundation, is made at the annual meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Page is famed for studies with drugs to control high blood pressure, and chemical changes associated with hardening of the arteries.

WEAVERBIRD TACTICS CITED TO SCIENTISTS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—To entice a wife, the weaverbird of Africa builds a nest, and waits.

If a female likes it, she does the decorating, lining the nest. The male has only built the outer shell.

If he's done a bum job, he's scorned. Within a week or two of waiting he tears down the nest, build another, and waits again.

Starts All Over

Once the nest is established, the female incubates the eggs, the male helps her feed the young.

This task done, he builds another nest, and attempts to attract females until the end of the breeding season.

Selection of the nest by the female may be an important force in the evolution of the weaving of nests, Nicholas and Elsie C. Collias of Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., said today in a report of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

COMMY PARTY RESHUFFLED TO HELP RED CHIEF

MOSCOW (AP)—A recent series of reshuffles within the Communist party apparently is designed to strengthen the control and leadership of the central party organization in Moscow and throughout the provinces.

The main move was taken last week when three party Presidium members were appointed secretaries of the central party organization directly under party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

They are N. A. Mukhitdinov, Alexei I. Kirichenko and N. G. Ignatov, all of whom are regarded as long-time Khrushchev supporters. Mukhitdinov also was promoted from candidate member to full member of the Presidium.

Expand Presidium

With membership of the Presidium expanded to 15, the secretariat now provides a more tightly knit body for direction and control of party affairs.

Other reshuffles were reported from Kazakhstan and the Ukraine Thursday night, also fitting into the current pattern.

In the Ukraine, Kirichenko was relieved of his responsibilities as first secretary, presumably to give him more time to attend to his duties with the secretariat of the central party organization in Moscow.

In the Central Asian republic of Kazakhstan the first and second secretaries of the party organization were removed and N. I. Belyaev, a member of the Soviet Presidium, was appointed to head the party organization.

Political observers see Belyaev's role as that of a troubleshooter to bring the Kazakh party machinery under firmer control of the Moscow party organization.

Seixas And MacKay Salvage Final Challenge Singles To Avert 3rd Straight Shutout

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP) — Vic Seixas, a battle-scarred veteran of seven Davis Cup campaigns, and Barry MacKay, the 22-year-old intercollegiate champion, salvaged the final two singles matches of the Challenge Round against Australia today and thus saved the United States from a humiliating third straight shutout.

Seixas, playing his last match here, fought off four match points to win a 2½-hour struggle against Malcolm Anderson 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 0-6, 13-11. MacKay won an equally intense struggle against Ashley Cooper 6-4, 1-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

That made Australia's final count 3-2, closer than Aussie captain Harry Hopman had predicted and set the experts to wondering if the U.S. outfit was quite as weak as advertised.

Last Two Were Shutouts
The Aussies won both the 1955 and 1956 Challenge Round by 5-0 scores and wanted to make this a third shutout.

The 34-year-old Seixas, who is going to be tied down by business interests from now on, drew wild applause from the capacity crowd of 20,000 at the Kooyong Stadium.

Rarely has a more courageous Davis Cup performance been given. The old Philadelphia war horse was almost off on his feet, but he was determined to make his swan song a success and that he did. The pressure-packed final set lasted 51 minutes.

Breaks In 24th Game
It appeared to be all over in the 12th game of the final set. Vic was behind 6-3 and Anderson had him 40-0 on his own service. But Seixas made it 40-15, then 40-30, then deuce, then took the advantage and then the game to tie it again. When Anderson smashed a return into the net, the crowd roared its approval.

Finally, in the 24th game, Seixas broke through when Anderson double-faulted on the final point. Then Seixas held his own delivery and it was the match.

By the time MacKay and Cooper got on the courts, the weather had turned from bad to worse. High late afternoon winds were kicking up and both had trouble keeping control of the ball.

It was an even match all the way and a good indication of the closeness can be found in the fact that in the last three sets, there was only one service break set.

PROS PRIME FOR TITLE CONTEST

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions and the Cleveland Browns rushed through last-minute preparations today for their world championship football clash Sunday at Briggs Stadium.

Coach George Wilson said his Lions "are as ready as we'll ever be." The day before the battle for the professional football title brought bad news to the Lions' camp. Offensive tackle Charlie Ann definitely will miss the contest because of injuries.

The big Hawaii-born lineman, who switched from center to tackle this season when the Lions acquired veteran Frank Gatski, missed the Western Division playoff game last Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers. But coaches had been hopeful that the extra rest would put Ann in good enough shape to play against the Browns, champions of the Eastern Conference.

GIARDELLO IS VICTOR IN JONES BATTLE FRIDAY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Joey Giardello, fresh from a bruising 10-round decision over Ralph (Tiger) Jones, hopes he will get Carmen Basilio, the middleweight king as his next opponent.

"If we can't get Basilio, we'll fight anyway, because I'd rather have him in the ring than the gym," said Tony Ferrante, Giardello's manager, after jolting Joey trimmed the unranked Jones last night. Giardello is ranked third by the NBA.

Giardello floored Jones briefly in the third round and went on to win before a ringside crowd of 3,661 — largest turnout for a fight here this year.

Ferrante said he would wait for Sugar Ray Robinson, to see what the former champion would do about a fight with Basilio, but added Giardello needs more action.

"I was dizzy," Jones said of the third round knockdown, "but I wasn't hurt. Giardello jabs to keep you off. Every time I got in close the referee broke us up and wouldn't let me use my right."

Giardello called it one of his bad fights and said his timing "was way off."

Giardello, fighting out of Rosedale, L. I., N. Y., weighed 150½, just two pounds more than Jones, whose home is in Yonkers, N. Y.

It was the 27-year-old Giardello's 90th ring appearance and his 71st victory. Jones, 29, has had 69 fights and it was defeat No. 21 for him.

N. O. DRIBBLERS WIN THRILLER

A lay-up goal by Bill Haverstick in the final five seconds of play gave the New Oxford High School basketball team a thrilling 46-45 victory at Dover Friday evening.

Dover led most of the way after jumping off to a 14-9 advantage in the first period and at intermission held a 24-19 lead. The Colonials surged back in the third period to take the lead at 34-32 and from then on it was nip and tuck.

A violation cost Eagles the ball with seconds remaining and the Eagles in front 45-44. After a timeout, Haverstick worked free and landed his winning goal.

Haverstick topped the winners with 16 points while Ira Lauer netted 13 for Dover.

The victory was the second in four starts for New Oxford. Next Friday they entertain Littleton in an Adams County League game. The New Oxford reserves won the preliminary 35-28.

Canadian Blonde Gymnast Winner

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—A blonde Canadian Olympic gymnast and a University of Illinois Olympic athlete won the Roy E. Moore Memorial Championship last night in a gymnastics meet that drew 600 participants and coaches.

Ernestine Russell of Windsor, Ont., won free exercise and vaulting events from Muriel Davis of Indianapolis and tied with her in parallel bars to edge the Indiana girl, 37.1 to 36.6.

Abie Grossfeld of Illinois, member of the 1956 Olympic team, won the mens division of the memorial event with 111.3 points. Armando Vega, Pennsylvania State University, another Olympic gymnast, was fourth. He scored 101.85 before being sidelined because of a minor hand injury.

TODAY'S GAMES OPEN FIVE-DAY GRIDIRON FEAST

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN

The Associated Press

A five-day feast of football started today with two sectional all-star games and a Gator bowl contest headlining a lame duck coach named Bear.

Four All America players led the East against the West in the 33rd annual Shrine game in San Francisco. The East was favored by nine points.

Ken Ford, Hardin-Simmons passer, accounted for the South's favorite role (by a point) in the annual Blue-Gray battle in Montgomery, Ala.

Aggies Favored

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant sent his Texas Aggies (8-2) against the Tennessee Volunteers (7-3) in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. The Aggies were favored by 2½ points.

Bryant recently resigned from Texas A&M to become head coach and athletic director at Alabama, his alma mater.

NBC will telecast the Blue-Gray game at 1:45 p.m., EST, and the East-West game, 4:45 p.m., EST. CBS will telecast the Gator Bowl at 1:45 p.m., EST.

Games On Sunday

Sunday's games include the Satellite Bowl in Cocoa, Fla., between Ft. Dix, N.J. (9-0) and Ft. Carson, Colo. (7-3) and the pro football title windup between the Detroit Lions and Cleveland Browns at Detroit.

The East All Americas were tackled Alex Karras, Iowa, and Lou Michaels, Kentucky; end Jim Phillips, Auburn, and back Jim Pace, Michigan.

Ford, who learned his tossing under Sammy Baugh, all-time pro quarterback great at Hardin-Simmons, went against a Blue lineup packed with 10 Big Ten players.

Pick Ohio State

John Crow, All America back, was Bryant's best bet against Tennessee in its 12th bowl game. Bobby Gordon headed the Vols' single wing attack.

In Wednesday's bowl games, Ohio State (8-1) is favored by 19 over Oregon (7-3) in the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Calif.; Navy (8-1-1) is a point favorite over Rice (7-3) in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas; Oklahoma (9-1) is a 10-point favorite against Duke in the Orange Bowl, Miami and Mississippi (8-1-1) is a two-point choice over Texas (6-3-1) in the Sugar Bowl, New Orleans.

Other games New Year's Day are the Tangerine Bowl, Orlando, Fla.; Sun Bowl, El Paso, Tex.; and the Prairie View Bowl, at Houston, Tex.

3 Chess Masters Share Tourney Lead

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Three chess masters shared the lead today as the U. S. Intercollegiate Chess Tournament moved into the fourth of seven rounds.

They are Anthony Saidy of Froham University, Charles Kalme of the University of Pennsylvania, and Saul Yarnak of Los Angeles City College. Each turned in third straight victories last night.

Saidy defeated Anthony Cantone of Penn State in a match lasting over five hours. Kalme beat Harvey Selb of the University of Buffalo and Yarnak won from Dale Ruch of the University of Oklahoma.

Three regulars on Michigan State's football team come from Massachusetts. They are Tony Kolodziej of Florence, Walt Kowalczyk of Westfield and Pat Burke of Lawrence.

Gene Kenney, Michigan State soccer coach, is the son of former Illinois wrestling coach, H. E. Kenney.

Albright and LeMoyné play a consolation game preceding the title contest.

Bernie Peterson of St. Vincent took scoring honors in the first game with 27 points. Art Jones set the pace for St. Francis with 13.

BUILDING AND REPAIR

County Agent Gives Cold Weather Tips To Farmers

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

December is a good time to check water pipes that are in exposed locations.

Covering any pipe on the surface of the ground with about 30 inches of soil is suggested or place in a trench below the frost line or about 30 inches below ground level.

Use insulation to cover a pipe entering a building in an exposed location. If insulation is impractical consider electric heating cable. Heating cable, rated at 7 watts per foot, placed along the underside of a 4 inch pipe, and taped in position with friction tape, will protect to about 10 degrees above zero. To protect to 5 degrees below zero it will be necessary to wind the heating cable around the pipe with spirals not more than 3 inches apart.

Warning Issued

Caution in using heating cable is urged and be sure the pipe being protected is grounded to prevent shock hazard.

Never lengthen or shorten the heating cable as it will effect the heat output. Lengthening decreases the heat output and shortening will increase the heat output which can be a hazard.

Thermostats are not necessary but desirable. A thermostat makes insulation automatic and more economical. Without a thermostat the heat stays on all the time until the switch is pulled.

The pump will noted protection too, and a heat lamp or an ordinary 100 watt light is satisfactory under most conditions.

Build Soil With Manure

Have you corrected any soil activity on your farm with lime-stone? Well, there's one more job to do after that. You need to build up a good phosphorus level in that soil. Phosphorus is so important in crop production, that farming is impossible without it.

On the famous Jordan Soil Fertility Plots at the Pennsylvania State University one plot of land received no fertilizer for 77 years. At the end of this time, the corn yield was twenty-eight bushels to the acre. The same yield with potash alone was obtained during the 77th year. However, where nothing but phosphorus alone was applied, the corn yield jumped from twenty-eight to a full eighty bushels per acre. When complete fertilizer was applied according to soil test, the yield increased to 128 bushels.

The most practical method for applying superphosphate is with manure. The manure helps keep the phosphorus available to plants over a longer period of time. What's more, superphosphate preserves the nitrogen in the manure. For best results, apply one and a half to two pounds of superphosphate for each cow every day. You can put it in the dairy stable gutter, or apply weekly in the cattle feeder barn, or where the manure is being tramped under-foot.

There is no proof that superphosphate will corrode metal. Actually there is proof that it does not cause corrosion. Most corrosion comes from the acids in manure.

Let superphosphate do its good work for you. Two pounds a day for each cow in your herd will pay big dividends.

Genetic inheritance is no longer the limiting factor for efficient milk production! That's because 50 per cent of our cows in Pennsylvania are bred artificially each year to outstanding bulls.

Average milk production per cow is now 10,000 pounds at four per cent butterfat from artificial breeding. In 1945 when artificial breeding was just getting underway, there were few herds in our state that produced over 500 pounds of butterfat per cow. In 1955 there were 111 such herds. And in 1956 nearly 200 herds averaged over 500 pounds ... with six herds over 600 pounds.

A survey reveals that three-quarters of the herds with over 500 pounds butterfat used artificial breeding ... with over half of the cows in these herds sired by bulls in artificial breeding.

This means that fifty per cent of our Pennsylvania dairymen now have this same inheritance in their herds. Now all they need for a 500 pound herd average is feed. It boils down to this ... we are under-feeding the inheritance we have on our farms.

Cooking fresh pears or peaches in a sugar syrup for a fruit compote? Be sure to add vanilla to the syrup when you take the fruit from the heat. Good flavor!

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer
CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — What is gardening?

"It is work and sweat and blisters and bugs. Prickles in fingers and dirt on the rugs," answers John S. Gallagher in the 1957 catalogue of one of the big nurseries.

He goes on, of course, to paint in rhyme the joys of the first daffodil, the dew-covered morning rose and all the rest of the things each of us with our very own spot knows full well, even if modesty does prevent us from doing too much bragging.

It is a curious hobby. At October's end, when the cleanup work outdoors seemed never-ending and every gust of wind blew another load of leaves onto the lawn, there were times when gardening seemed pure drudgery. Now, with the plants snug in their winter beds, the last leaves mulched or composted and the grass given its late fall feeding, just a couple of indoor week-ends turn the gardener's thoughts to spring and spring planning.

After all, it's just a matter of weeks, really, until the 1958 seed catalogues are out, and the flats of tomatoes and snapdragons and petunias can be started the last week in February.

Inside Gardening

Meanwhile, there is still gardening to be done—the inside variety, but gardening just the same. The African violets are blooming their heads off, so make a note about potting soil: earth scratched from beneath the privet hedge, lightened by a bit of peat moss, sweetened by a bit of powered charcoal and fed once a month by a special African violet fertilizer, water soluble and in a 5-8-7 formulation of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. And on a tray of moist pebbles set in a west window.

In the sunniest southeast window, the delicate patience plants—impatiens, if you want to go into Latin—produce abundant supplies of bright red blossoms, along with the Christmas begonias. Both are cuttings, started during the summer in the shade garden and potted up in September. Both are doing well in a mixture of one part top soil, one part leafmold, powdered charcoal and a bit of bone-meal—no additional feeding. They are sunk rim-deep in expanded mica in a window box set a foot back from the window pane, and the mica is kept moist.

Watering, Principal Chore

Principal gardening chore is watering. My own experience has been that the Africa violets do better if allowed to become fairly dry before receiving another thorough watering, and that the begonias and impatiens like to be kept moist—not wet—constantly. The purpose of both the tray of moist pebbles and the moist mica is to provide the plants with a humid atmosphere.

House plants, alas, can become afflicted with almost as many diseases as the indoor variety. Watch the Africans for mold, fungus, red spider, mealy bugs and cyclamen mites. The others can pick up aphids and plenty of other pests.

The telescope was invented in 1608 by the Dutch inventor, Lipper-shey.

"Pasadena:" Shows Care In Planning

SPECIFICATIONS
Rooms	Five
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Measurements
Overall	47 by 34 feet
Cubage	22,100 feet
House	22,100 feet
Garage	2,700 feet

If you've been looking for a house designed along the straight clean lines so typical of modern architecture you'll like the "Pasadena," today's Home of the Week.

All-on-one-floor living is a convenience that will be enjoyed by families building this home—and, they'll find inside this compact house plenty of conveniently arranged living space. Generous storage space is provided throughout the house, too, to make living more convenient—and more comfortable.

Exterior Finish

A combination of masonry finish is suggested for the house exterior; clapboards on the garage provide a pleasing contrast. Any site can be used for a home of this style but a slightly elevated one is suggested for the most attractive results.

Including the attached garage, measurements are approximately 47 feet by 34 feet. Cubage of the house is 22,100 feet; cubage of the garage is 2,700 feet. You'll need about an 80-foot lot on which to build this house which is approved by both the VHA and the FHA.

Three Bedrooms

There are three bedrooms in this all-modern house. And, in the bedroom—as throughout the house—an abundance of windows seem to bring the outdoor right inside the rooms. All the bedrooms are located in the rear of the house where it will be quieter and more private.

Carefully planned—as is the way with modern kitchens—the kitchen in this plan is comfortably large. And, it features a generous-size dining area where it's no hardship to serve the majority of the family's meals. For more festive occasion's the living room can do double duty.

Lavatory And Bath

Both a lavatory and a bath are suggested in this plan—a feature that will win approval with many families and especially with those who have school-age youngsters. Another feature that helps to make this house such a pleasant and comfortable place in which to live is the central hallway that connects with all of the rooms—yet does not run through any of them. This hall uses up a minimum of the living space available in the house.

Both of the heating and the laun-

Do's and Don'ts

By ANDREW C. LANG
The Associated Press

WATERPROOF WOOD GLUE

DO ... for best results, complete the project when the temperature is at least 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

DO ... spread the glue so that all necessary areas are covered, waiting a few minutes for it to become tacky before joining together the parts being bonded.

DON'T ... forget that, when the directions call for clamping procedures, hardwoods should be kept under pressure longer than softwoods.

DON'T ... overlook the use of waterproof glue for indoor jobs where there will be high humidity and extremes of heat and cold.

DON'T ... mix any more glue than you can use, since the waterproof variety is more expensive than the regular type.

DON'T ... forget that if all checks show neither the push-button, nor the power source to be at fault, the wiring may be at fault, although this is the least likely cause of doorbell trouble.

Americans Drive Selves Into Zany Situations In Last Year

By PAUL DUKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans drove themselves into some freakish situations in 1957.

A 62-year-old Royal Oak, Mich., woman, en route to apply for a driver's permit, sideswiped a parked car and sheared off a utility pole. So her driving days ended before they began.

A 14-year-old lass in Baton Rouge, La., steered herself into a bit of trouble, too. Making her first rally in the family car she proceeded to score one sideswipe, one broadside smash and one back-up poke of another car. She then got out and walked away.

First Through Tunnel
But the women drivers didn't hog the zany honors. At Oswego, N.Y., a man who thought his brakes might need checking found his car smashed through the service station door.

A 72-year-old Grand Rapids, Mich., oil executive took a wrong turn at Norfolk, Va., one night and found himself shooting down the new 60-million-dollar Hampton Roads bridge-tunnel. His car was the first to make the crossing—an honor that was to have been the governor's a couple of days later.

Truck driver Ed Thompson of Stamford, Conn., had bridge difficulties of another kind. His assignment was to deliver a 16,000-pound statue of Simon Bolivar from New York to Washington, a trip that normally takes about six hours. It took Thompson four days.

The statue, it turned out, was too high to clear several low-span bridges, necessitating a backwoods route to Washington.

No Time For Space Travel
A Salt Lake City woman couldn't open her car door, so she asked a male passerby to lend a helping hand. He, too, tried the key without success. Whereupon the woman suggested he break the window to open the door from the inside. 'Twas done and inside she made the discovery: the car wasn't hers.

A vehicle of a different sort gave a Memphis, Tenn., woman a broken nose, two black eyes and facial cuts. She fell from a speeding tricycle driven by her three-year-old son.

With so much of this sort of thing occurring on the ground the Civil Aeronautics Board decided last week this is no time to think of establishing passenger travel service into outer space. Accordingly, it turned down the interplanetary application of Terminal Transport, Inc., of Atlanta.

HILLARY PARTY
240 MILES FROM WORLD BOTTOM

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (AP)—Sir Edmund Hillary's party has reached the point of no return on its overland trek to the South Pole. The four-man group is now 240 miles from the bottom of the world.

Hillary's radio message to Scott base, his camp near McMurdo Sound, was monitored here by his Ross Sea committee sponsors. It said the band of New Zealanders "is undergoing some strain at an altitude of 10,000 feet."

But he added that they covered 41 miles during the night, which means the group is keeping up a steady pace. They have averaged from 40 to 70 miles for the past few nights.

Near Scott Route
Hillary also reported he was about a day's journey from the 200-mile stretch covered by Capt. Robert F. Scott on his ill-fated trek to the pole 45 years ago. The Scott party died on the way back and no one has made it overland to the pole since then.

Reports from another team headed by British Dr. Vivian Fuchs were not so good. Traveling towards the pole from the opposite direction with a British Commonwealth transantarctic team, Fuchs has made only 35 miles since Wednesday and has almost 500 more to go.

In addition to the two commonwealth parties, a Russian team has set out from the Soviet base in 30 vehicles.

Other proposals also are being prepared to help meet the clamor for more emphasis on scientific and technical training in the nation's schools and colleges. The demand has been growing since Russia's launching of two earth satellites emphasized an increasing Russian technical capability.

Like Vocational Program
The program, to be administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, would be patterned after the present federally aided vocational education program.

That department also would be authorized to set up a federal scholarship program, aid expansion of graduate schools, help the states provide more and better testing and counseling of high school pupils, and promote the teaching of foreign languages.

College scholarships, to cost eight to 10 million dollars the first year, would be provided for talented high school students who could not otherwise go to college. Fellowships also would be provided in graduate schools.

In a related effort, more than 50 million dollars a year would be provided to the National Science Foundation for expansion of its present effort to expand teaching of science and math at all levels.

Record College Enrollment
Most of that money would go for updating science textbooks, providing more fellowships and conducting more seminars and institutes for teachers in those fields.

While plans went forward for a boost in the specialized training, the Office of Education reported a record enrollment in colleges and universities this fall.

The office reported a preliminary total of 3,068,000 students enrolled in 1,800 institutions, a gain of 4.1 per cent over the 2,947,000 listed in the fall of 1956. The total by the end of this school year is expected to reach 3,460,000, the report said.

The announced total is 45 per cent above that for the fall of 1951.

Takes Wine, Liquor Thru Broken Panes

WILLIAMSTOWN, N.J. (AP)—The long arm of the law-breaker took a liquor store operator seven half-gallon jugs of wine and five fifths of liquor.

A thief smashed panes of glass in both the rear and front doors of Wilmer Lane's store. He apparently was unable to reach and unlock the safety chain. He settled for what he could reach—the jugs and fifths, which Lane valued at about $5.

Player-coach Larry Fornicola of the Second Army team also came up with three wins in last night's competition. The winner of the 1955 Wilkes tourney outstanding wrestler award decided Rensselaer Polytechnic and Pitt's Bob Senter, then won his quarter-final match by a fall over Carr of the Wilkes-Barre YMCA.

BISHOP DIES
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Bishop Eugene J. McGuinness of the Tulsa and Oklahoma City Roman Catholic Diocese, a native of Hellertown, Pa., died yesterday in St. Anthony's Hospital.

Globemaster In Emergency Landing

BOSTON (AP)—A Military Air Transport Service C124, commanded by Air Force Lt. Kenneth L. Munch of East Stroudsburg, Pa., made a safe emergency landing at Logan International Airport yesterday with one of its four engines feathered and another working improperly.

The big Globemaster carried a crew of six and was loaded with cargo. There were no passengers.

Lt. Munch said engine trouble developed when the plane, en route to Dover, Del., Air Force Base, from the Azores, was some 250 miles off the coast.

He said it was his third such experience in recent flights but declined to elaborate.

Notes of Crisis and Caution in PSEA Speeches

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—The annual year-end meeting of Pennsylvania school teachers came to an end today on a note of crisis sounded by Gov. Leader and a word of caution from the teachers themselves.

Leader, in an address last night which capped the busiest day of the three-day 105th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn., said Russia's scientific achievements represent "a time of national crisis" for the U.S.

The teachers took time to advise against "crash decisions" in any overhaul of the state's education system. At the same time they demanded a larger voice in any groups that plan such overhaul. They requested that the 100-member committee invited by the governor to meet here next month to study Pennsylvania education with a view to revising it to meet the Russian challenge be broadened to include classroom teachers.

Many Resolutions
The teachers also approved a slate of resolutions dealing with salaries and work loads and confirmed Harold J. Koch of Hazleton as president-elect to succeed Kermit M. Stover, Harrisburg, who will become vice president.

Leader told the convention that "if education isn't as good as it must be in the critical years to come, the price we pay is, at the least, the loss of our freedom and, at the most, a terrible annihilation."

He said government aid to education "is just as essential to the nation's security as a stepped-up missile program." He added:

"The fact is that we must produce within the next decade or so our higher education plant of today, one that required more than 300 years to build."

"Government aid to these institutions of higher learning is the only answer if we are to avoid this unbelievable waste of human resources in a time of national crisis."

In its note of caution about "crash decisions," the convention passed a resolution declaring that any plans to change programs or lengthen the time a student spends in school should be made "only after due consideration is given to maintaining the unique feature of our American system of education, which is the development of all the potentials of the individual."

The convention also approved a resolution that teachers' minimum annual salaries range from $5,000 for the new teacher to $11,500 after 15 years for teachers with master's degrees.

Other Resolutions
Other resolutions adopted by the convention:

Demand that school employees be paid their salaries when due, with the Public Instruction Department penalizing districts that fail to meet payrolls.

Disapproved any "hasty adoption of merit rating" as a means of improving teaching.

Urged extension of the voting franchise to 18-year-olds.

Requested boosted appropriations to state teacher colleges.

He Chases Gunman With Jackhandle

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 60-year old service station attendant used a jack handle and a lot of nerve to save his receipts from a shotgun-toting bandit last night.

Albert L. Skaggs had $95 in his hand when the masked gunman entered and pointed the sawed-off shotgun "right at my stomach," Skaggs said.

But Skaggs "just backed up to the stockroom and grabbed this jackhandle."

The bandit fled empty handed. "I guess I bluffed him," Skaggs said.

Give Bad Address With Bad Check

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—A young couple picked the wrong address in writing a no-account check yesterday.

YOUTH ADMITS FATAL SHOOTING OF HIS MOTHER

NEW YORK (AP)—A 17-year-old youth walked into a Brooklyn police station last night and told of shooting his mother to death with a rifle because she nagged him about using the telephone.

"Honest, I'm not kidding," blond John Jessup told a police officer. "I put two bullets in the back of her head and dragged her body from the hall into the bathtub."

"I was there half an hour trying to clean up the blood. Honest, I'm not kidding. Go there and see."

Police find body
Police went to the ground-floor apartment about a block away and found the body of Mrs. Gladys Jessup, 35, an attractive blonde divorcee, just where her son said it would be.

Young Jessup said a friend, Howard Denlea, saw the shooting and helped him carry his mother's body into the tub. Denlea was questioned and held on a charge of juvenile delinquency.

Jessup, booked on a homicide charge, said in a statement released by police: "I lost my temper. I have a very quick temper."

Anger flared
The youth said he and Denlea were examining the .22-caliber rifle a short time before he picked up the phone to call his girl friend. Just then his mother came through the hall and said, "Why do you have to speak to her and tie up the phone. You just recently saw her."

Jessup said he flared in anger, grabbed the rifle and shot his mother. The youth said he had had other arguments with his mother because she objected to girl friends "I hung around with."

Laurel racetrack in Maryland has spent more than four million dollars in improving the track since 1951.

File Lien Against Husband Of Star

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A $392,644 federal income tax lien was filed yesterday against George A. Mellen and his former wife, Mildred.

Mellen, now married to Kay Starr, popular singer, was formerly president of Ambrosia Minerals Inc. His present address is listed as Paulden, Ariz., north of Prescott.

The lien was signed by Matthew J. Scott of the Phoenix office of the Internal Revenue Service and covers income tax allegedly due for 1955.

Last April a $39,171 lien was filed against Mellen in Albuquerque. It was for the year 1955. That lien was released last May, when Mellen's residence was sold.

LOCATE 81 GIRLS BITTEN BY PUPPY

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—All except one of 82 college girls who were exposed to a rabid puppy have been warned to take precautionary measures, and a pint of blood donated by one has been found and removed from a blood bank.

State police said today they were still seeking to find Joyce Lowell of Dover, N.J., and notify her that the puppy—a Florida Southern College sorority house pet—had died of rabies. Miss Lowell believed vacationing with her family somewhere on Florida's east coast.

The pint of blood was removed after Linda Kell, 21, New York City, heard about the dog's death Monday and told health authorities she had played with the dog and also had donated the blood to the Polk County blood bank.

Only seven girls were nipped or scratched by the playful dog but 82 were believed to have been exposed to the pet, kept in the sorority house against college rules.

HATTA CHARGES BAD HANDLING OF "CAMPAIGN"

By JAMES WILDE

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Former Vice President Mohammed Hatta charged today that officials have so mishandled the current anti-Dutch campaign that they are "hurting Indonesia more than the Dutch."

In an open letter appearing in newspapers throughout this sprawling island republic, the leader who negotiated independence from the Netherlands in 1949 asked: "Is it necessary for the Indonesian people to sacrifice and suffer to speed up the return of West Irian to the republic?"

The campaign of seizing the 1½-billion-dollar Dutch investment in Indonesia and forcing most of the 46,000 Dutch citizens out of the country began Dec. 2 in retaliation for the Netherlands' refusal to hand over West New Guinea. Indonesia calls the area West Irian and claims it should have been surrendered in the 1949 independence agreement.

Sees Famine Ahead
Hatta said famine is facing the country "not because rice is short but because of disorder in distribution, shipping and communications." He blamed the disorder on the West Irian Action Committee, which has led the campaign.

"If we had planned, our people would not suffer," Hatta said. "Due to lack of planning, an economic calamity is approaching." The campaign was touched off by the U.N. failure to approve a resolution backing the Indonesian position.

To Widen Breach
"I reiterate," Hatta said, "Dutch, not Indonesian, interests should be undermined. The Dutch economy here must be liquidated, but not in a fashion which will cripple us."

Hatta's attack was expected by some foreign observers here to widen the breach between him and President Sukarno which led to Hatta's retirement from the government a year ago. A parliamentary committee has been trying to reconcile them before Sukarno leaves about Jan. 5 on a trip abroad officially billed as a rest cure.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DENVER (AP)—Edward T. Wilson, 88, president of the Continental Oil Co. from 1912 until his retirement in 1932, died yesterday. He was born in Ballston Spa, N.Y.

MARIO I. Ind. (AP)—Edward W. Camp, 65, vice president and general manager of the Chronicle Publishing Co., died yesterday. The company publishes the afternoon Marion Chronicle and the morning Marion Leader-Tribune.

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Louis Haselmann, 79, who was a conductor of New York's Metropolitan Opera orchestra from 1924-25, died yesterday. He was born in Paris.

SISTER FINDS BODIES
MANOA, Pa. (AP)—Two elderly sisters died yesterday when gas fumes filled their home on West Chester Pike.

The sisters, Miss Philomena D'Ambrosio, 68, and Miss Edwige D'Ambrosio, 55, operated a dancing school in Upper Darby. They were found by a married sister, Mrs. Eleanor Cella, of Llanerch.

Three Gunmen Get $5,000 In Holdup

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Three gunmen ordered five occupants of a restaurant into a back room yesterday, ripped out telephone wires and escaped with $5,000 from a cash drawer.

Paul Kerlides and James Pappas, owners of the Sylvania Restaurant, told police the three young men were armed with a sawed-off shotgun, two pistols and a screw driver.

The shotgun went off when one of the trio threw it down on the bar as they departed, but no one was hurt. Witnesses said the bandits, all Negroes, fled in a two-tone sedan.

CONCUSSION HEAVY BUT NO BLAST SOUND

AMONATE, Va. (AP)—A few men were working, several were eating, one was cleaning up when a gas-produced explosion trapped 22 men below the earth in the Pocahontas Fuel Co.'s Mine No. 31 late yesterday.

Fourteen were brought to safety early today—all nervous, all shaken but all uninjured. "The explosion (at 6:30 p.m.) didn't have any sound, but the concussion was heavy," said Mitchell Harris, 28, Cedar Bluff.

"I know—I knocked the sandwich out of my hand and knocked me over. It busted my ears when it hit."

Harris said he "knew what happened, although it was my first time—and I hope it's my last."

W. C. Carrico of Amonate, a mechanic, was repairing a shuttle-car and was lying on the ground at the time of the blast.

"I was rolled over against the wall by the force of the blast," said Carrico. "My first thought was that the car had dropped. After I got up and saw all the smoke and dust, I knew what had happened and started calling the men together."

Harris admitted being "a little scared and I wanted to get out. But I settled down and joined the others. Everyone in the group was a little scared, but all the men were swell."

He said Woodrow Evans, a foreman, was "specially nice. He called us together and said, 'I am no longer your boss. We have to put our heads together and get out of here.'"

Faced Back By Smoke
The men started out twice, Harris said, "but were forced back each time by smoke. After the second time, we moved out to a protected spot and bratticed ourselves in. Then we built another brattice (canvas barricade) inside the first one. Then we wrapped up and sat and waited."

"A few times we called out to each other just checking up," Harris said, "but mostly we just sat, thought and prayed."

Harris paused a moment, then added: "If some of those men didn't pray, they should have."

When rescue teams finally reached the section in which the 14 men had taken shelter, Harris said, "You can bet I was sure glad to hear those voices after five hours."

Bryce Canyon National Park in southwestern Utah was established in 1928. Its 35,960 acres are noted for striking colors and odd-shaped pinnacles.

25th Anniversary For Radio City

NEW YORK (AP)—Rockefeller Center's Radio City Music Hall, which opened its doors amid depression predictions that it was doomed to failure, celebrated its 25th anniversary yesterday.

Some 12 million persons have seen the giant theater's motion pictures and spectacular stage presentations, featuring the famed Rockettes, since it opened Dec. 27, 1932.

SAY STUDENT TOOK $32,000

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A 25-year-old accounting student is charged with stealing about $32,000 from the First National Bank of Amarillo.

The FBI identified him as Billy Joe Faust of Amarillo, a sophomore accounting major at West Texas State College.

Faust was arraigned on the theft charge last night and his bond was set at $10,000. Charles E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office, said Faust had been employed part-time by the bank since last January. Weeks said the money disappeared from the bank vault. He did not say whether any of it had been recovered.

Faust, a Navy veteran, has been married and divorced twice and is the father of a 5-year-old boy.
